Pittsburgh, May 16.—For eight and two-thirds inning today Jeff Tesreau was credited with a no-hit game against the Pirates. Then Joe Kelly bounced a hot grounder over Jeff's head. Two men were out at the time, and no damage was done, as Carey then filed out. The Ginnts won, 2 to 6. In the eighth inning Viox drew a base on balls. He and Kelly were the only locals to reach first base during the game. It was generally known that Tesreau had virtually left a sick bed to pitch, and the big crowd applianced him generously. Score:

GUESSING ALL WAY

both on attack and defense. They were absolutely helpless before the slants of Grimes, and they bungled many plays that were perfectly harmless at the beginning. On only one occasion did they have 4 chance to cross the cashing station, and then Ray Ryam successfully blocked Stein at the plate, making the out after a throw to Newton and return. True they got men on the paths in the seventh and eighth, but in both these boxes it was after two were down. In all, a total of thirty tars faced Grimes, just three more than the minimum number allotted in the nine innings, which just about show how effective he was.

The Colts scored in the first, second, third, sixth and seventh. The run is the first was largely a gift, Eurden and Stewart collaborating to bring it about. Doe Newton beat his slow bunt to Molly McMahon, and was sent to second when Burden hit George Rohe. When Snyder was forced out by Gray, Doe went to third, from where he counted on Stewart's mad heave over second base. A wallop by Berger, a pass to Ryan, Grimes's ride and Rohe's knock account for the two in the second. Continued From First Page.)

Many of the performances in the Green Hunters, Saddle Horses and Corinthian classes were nearly perfect, while almost all of the mounts showed form above the average. There have been but few better performances over the four and a half feet jumps on the Country Club grounds than that yesterday by The Quaker, Miss Warfield Crenshaw's beautiful sorrel. Harry Beattle, Jr., sent her over the jumps without a break. Often the hurdle was cleared by many inches, and the performances won the heartiest applause of the meet.
